Train trips in Scandinavia

Stockholm – Swedish Lapland

A journey of contrasts.
The perfect trip for those with an urge to merge the big city pulse with magnificent countryside. This trip combines the hustle and bustle of a modern metropolis with a visit to beyond the Arctic Circle and the sanctuary of unspoiled landscapes and mountain expanses.

Stockholm – the royal capital

Stockholm is one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Built on fourteen islands, it’s a city of contrasts and often perceived by visitors as being quite unique. It’s an international metropolis, modern and trendy, yet bursting with culture, traditions and a history that stretches back an entire millennium. Few cities can compete with Stockholm’s ability to offer a taste of modern urban life, historical culture and wonderful countryside – all in one and the same day.

Swedish Lapland – the land of the midnight sun

Come and experience the midnight sun in Europe’s last wilderness. It’s an eldorado for anyone who enjoys great expanses of unspoiled mountain landscapes. This is the perfect place to hike, fish and cycle, experience the Sami culture of today, and ski in the light of the midnight sun up until midsummer! You can also stay at the internationally renowned Ice Hotel in Jukkasjärvi, or travel on by train to Narvik and see the Norwegian fjords with their amazing killer whales. You’ll return from this trip relaxed and with wonderful life-long memories.

How to get there:

- Two daily night train services.
- Stop-off suggestions: Luleå to see the old town, Gammelstad.
