Train trips in Scandinavia

Copenhagen – Stockholm – Göteborg – Copenhagen

Cities by the sea.
A round trip that combines visits to two modern capital cities with a stop-off on the Swedish west coast. Alternate historical sights in the hearts of big cities with refreshing dips in the salty waters of the archipelago bays.

Copenhagen – the design city
Come and meet a jovial and convivial city full of alleys lined with cozy old houses. That having been said, Copenhagen is also a modern city permeated by design in all forms and boasting lively cafés and restaurants. Sights worth seeing include the classic amusement park, Tivoli, and the world-famous and popular “The Little Mermaid” statue. And remember to sample the very essence of all things Danish – the Danish open sandwich!

Stockholm – the royal capital
Stockholm is one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Built on fourteen islands, it’s a city of contrasts and often perceived by visitors as being quite unique. It’s an international metropolis, modern and trendy, yet bursting with culture, traditions and a history that stretches back an entire millennium. Few cities can compete with Stockholm’s ability to offer a taste of modern urban life, historical culture and wonderful countryside – all in one and the same day.

Göteborg – the pearl of the west coast
Göteborg is a little big city that is characterised by its proximity to the sea. It’s easy to get around the city on foot or by tram, and the archipelago boats will soon whisk you off to the popular picnic cliffs and bathing bays. Göteborg is also home to the largest amusement park in the Nordic Region – Liseberg, with its numerous cafés, prize-winning restaurants, lush parks and so much more besides.

How to get there:
Copenhagen – Stockholm
- X2000s depart every other hour throughout the day. Night train from Malmö.
- The travel time is around 5.5 hours.
- Stop-off suggestions: Avesta to see Glasriket, the Kingdom of Crystal, and Norrköping to see Kullharden animal park.

Stockholm – Göteborg
- X2000s depart every hour throughout the day.
- The travel time is around 3 hours.
- Stop-off suggestions: Skåne to see the Brilingen mesa, and Orebro to see the old town, Västervik.

Göteborg – Copenhagen
- Up to seven services a day.
- The travel time is around 3.5 hours.
- Stop-off suggestions: Halmstad, to see Tylo sand seaside resort, and Malmö – the city of parks.

Swedish Railways